LATE CHAUDHARY AMIR CHAND
FATHER OF SHRI MAKHAN LAL

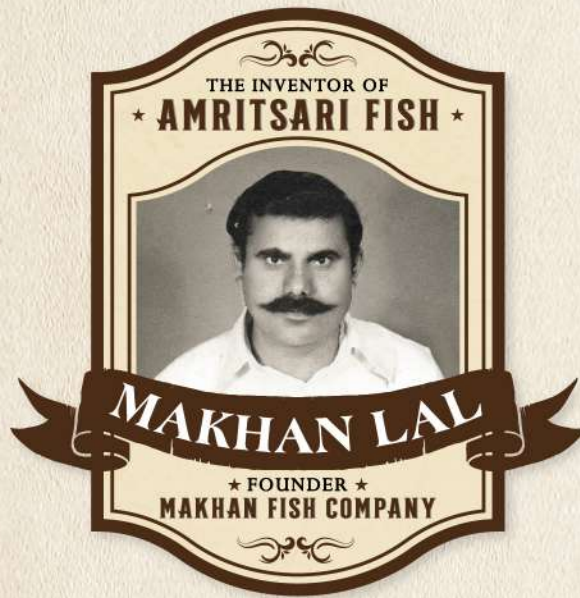

LATE SHRI MAKHAN LAL
1939 - 2010

WHERE IT ALL BEGAN:
THE JOURNEY OF FRESHNESS
FROM THE GHAGGAR RIVER.

THE ORIGIN OF LEGACY SINCE 1965:
MAKHAN FISH COMPANY,
I/S HALL GATE, AMRITSAR.

The Legacy of Makhan Fish Company

The story of Machhiwala is rooted in the remarkable journey of Late Shri Makhan Lal, the founder of Makhan Fish Company. Born in 1939 in Shahpur Village, District Okara (now in Pakistan), Makhan Lal experienced the upheaval of the 1947 Partition at just nine years old. His family migrated to India, enduring challenges before settling near the Ghaggar River in Firozabad Village.

Under the guidance of his father, Chaudhary Amir Chand, Makhan Lal learned the values of hard work and resilience. Their foray into the fishing business began in the 1950s, when Amir Chand secured fishing rights to the Ghaggar River, marking the family's formal entry into the trade. Makhan Lal and his brothers traveled across cities like Delhi, Ludhiana, Jalandhar, and Amritsar to sell their fresh catch, quickly becoming known for their quality and dedication.

In 1965, Makhan Lal took a bold step by opening his own shop, Makhan Lal and Brothers, in the Fish Market at Hall Gate, Amritsar. What began as a humble venture flourished into the renowned Makhan Fish Company by 1982, synonymous with exceptional quality and taste.

Today, Machhiwala by Makhan Fish Company, a tribute to Late Shri Makhan Lal, carries forward this proud legacy. We invite you to experience the flavors of tradition and innovation that have been perfected over decades.

This menu is more than food—it's a Tribute. With every dish, we honor
Makhan Lal's timeless commitment to excellence, brought to life by his family.

Story of the Original Amritsari Machhi

In the 1950s, Makhan Lal and his father, Chaudhary Amir Chand, cooked fresh fish during their fishing trips to the Ghaggar River. Leftover fish, often wasted due to a lack of refrigeration, was preserved by marinating it overnight in salt—a method that enhanced its flavor and tenderness.

During his travels to Amritsar in the 1960s, Makhan Lal found local fish preparations lacking the bold taste he loved. Using his own recipe, he introduced the technique of overnight marination and deep frying in mustard oil, creating a dish that locals soon called Makhan di Machhi (Makhan Lal's Fish).

This iconic preparation became a hallmark of Amritsar's food culture, earning the name Amritsari Fish. At Machhiwala, we proudly serve this legacy dish, made with the same authentic recipe that has delighted generations.
